W. G. HARDY AWARDED HONORARY DOCTORATE

At the University's Fall Convocation, held last Saturday, November 17, an honorary degree of doctor of laws was granted to WILLIAM GEORGE HARDY, Professor Emeritus of Classics. Dr. Hardy was presented to Convocation by WALTER H. JOHNS, Professor Emeritus of Classics and past-president of the University.

Dr. Hardy was born on an Ontario farm in 1895. He studied classics at the University of Toronto, where he graduated with the gold medal in classics, a medal in English, and the Governor-General's gold medal for the highest standing among all honors students at the university. Later he received a master's degree at Toronto and, in 1922, the PhD from the University of Chicago.

In 1920 Dr. Hardy joined the faculty of The University of Alberta, where he remained for more than forty years. In his citation for Dr. Hardy, Dr. Johns commented that "as a teacher he ranked among the best in the University and literally thousands of students were inspired with a love and appreciation of the life and literature of Greece and Rome in his lectures."

Dr. Hardy, a prolific and internationally recognized author, has written over 200 short stories and half a dozen novels, plus several volumes of history, from The Greek and Roman World (1960) to Origins and Ordeals of the Western World (1968). In addition, he was editor of both the Alberta Jubilee Anthology (1955) and Alberta: A Natural History (1967).

A past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, Dr. Hardy was active for many years in promoting and organizing amateur hockey. He was largely responsible for the building of the first covered rink on campus, which stood on the corner of 87 Avenue and 114 Street for many years.

President Max Wyman's Report to Fall Convocation will appear in next week's FOLIO.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR ADVANCED EDUCATION ADVISORY COMMITTEES

The provincial Department of Advanced Education is setting up a number of Advisory committees "to provide open communication to the Minister and the Department on all aspects of higher and further education." The committees will be established by the Minister according to Section (4) of the Department of Advanced Education Act.

The advisory committees are intended to facilitate participation by citizens, students, and professionals in policy development and to assure the representation of special needs and interests in the province. Each committee will advise the Minister on matters of its concern, and may recommend the initiation of studies.

Advisory committees will be established in six areas: college affairs, native peoples, further education, student affairs, technical and vocational education, and university affairs.

Each committee will consist of a maximum of 15 members, 8 of whom will be appointed at large, and the remainder as representatives of specific groups. All members will be appointed by the Minister of Advanced Education to serve up to three years. Applications and/or nominations are being sought throughout the province. Representation from the public is desired, rather than representation of organizations.

The representatives of specific interest groups required for each committee are as follows:

College Affairs: two members of the faculty of a public or regional college; one member of the faculty of a private college; and four students of public or regional colleges;

Native Peoples: three faculty members from institutions offering service to native education; one person employed by the Canada Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development; one person employed by the Indian Association of Alberta; one person employed by the Métis Association of Alberta; one person employed by the Alberta Indian Education Centre;

Further Education: two members of Further Education Councils; two members of the Alberta Association for Continuing Education; one faculty member of a university; one faculty member of a public or regional college; one faculty member of a technical institute or vocational centre;

Student Affairs: two graduate university students; two undergraduate university students; three students from private, public, or regional colleges, technical institutes, or vocational centres;

Technical and Vocational Education: three faculty members of institutions offering technical and/or vocational education; four students of institutions offering technical and/or vocational education;

University Affairs: three faculty members of universities; two graduate university students; and two undergraduate university students.

The committees will meet from two to six times annually in various Alberta locations. All meetings will be open to the public. Chairmen of the committees will be elected annually, and an executive secretary for each committee will be appointed by the Minister from the employees of the Department of Advanced Education.

Nominations and applications for members should be sent to: Advisory Committees, Minister of Advanced Education, 425 Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta T5K 2B6.

CHRISTMAS THEATRE AND OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS

Christmas (if we can forget for a moment the gross commercialism and October Santas) is a celebration, the most joyous celebration in the Christian year. Nowhere is this more apparent than in the offerings of the arts, which tend, around Christmas, more to celebrations than to dark tragedies or intellectual obscurities.

Four major artistic events which may interest FOLIO readers are the Theatre 3 and Studio Theatre productions, the Alberta Ballet, and a three day Christmas festival.

December 12 through 30, Theatre 3 will produce the children's classic The Wind in the Willows, by Kenneth Grahame. The stage adaptation of the book has been done by Edmonton playwright BILL PASNAK, and the production will be guest-directed by KENNETH AGRELL-SMITH. The action takes place along a small river and features the familiar ecology of Badger, Mole, Rat, and Toad of Toad Hall.

Further details of dates and times for The Wind in the Willows will appear in subsequent issues of FOLIO. Theatre 3's children's production last year, Alice in Wonderland, was completely sold out, including the special matinees, so patrons are advised to secure tickets early.

The University's Studio Theatre offering is the western Canadian premiere performance of Godspell, the off-Broadway rock musical version of the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The production is billed as "part clown show, part minstrel show, part vaudeville, part Hair. . . a celebration with sincerity and a touching reverence." Godspell will be directed by MARK SCHOENBERG, artistic director of Theatre 3, and designed by LARRY KADLEC, both members of the Department of Drama.

Godspell will open Thursday, December 6, and will play for twelve consecutive nights (except Sundays) plus two Saturday matinees, until Wednesday, December 19, at the theatre in Corbett Hall. The box office will open November 29 (telephone 432-1495).

A festival of Christmas music and dance, "Can we get there by candlelight," will be presented December 6, 7, and 8 in the Students' Union Theatre at 8:30 p.m. The festival will include the creative dance group "Orchesis," a choir of University singers, the Children's Dance Theatre, and a band consisting of brass, percussion, and two pianos, plus readers and audio-visual effects. The emphasis of the festival is an international Christmas, and ethnic organizations will be invited to present exhibits in the theatre lobby.

Concurrent with the festival is an open house of the Students' Union Arts and Crafts

Centre, featuring demonstrations, exhibits, and sale of crafts.

The festival is sponsored by the Students' Union and du Maurier. Tickets will be available at the Students' Union ticket desk and at all Woodward's Stores.

Ballet on Boxing Day seems to have become an annual event. This year, on December 26 and 27, the Alberta Ballet will present a premiere production of classical ballet and modern jazz, called "Ballet and all that jazz," with choreography by EVA VON GENSCHY.

Other holiday entertainment and special events will be published in future issues of FOLIO as the information comes to hand.

NOTICES

COMMITTEE VACANCIES

On November 28, 1973 the GFC Nominating Committee will meet to discuss the selection of nominations for the Interdisciplinary Co-ordinating Committee for Environmental Studies, and all those interested in serving on this committee, or who wish to suggest nominations, are advised to contact the Secretary of the Nominating Committee as soon as possible.

The Nominating Committee will also be considering nominations for members to be elected by General Faculties Council to serve on the Review Committee for the Dean of the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce, the Review Committee for the Chairman of the Department of Physiology, and the Selection Committee for the Chairman of Electrical Engineering.

Those who have suggestions for nominations or who are interested in serving on the above committees should contact the Secretary of the Nominating Committee, MRS. PAT MAERTZ, 2-1 University Hall, telephone 432-4965.

GRAPHICS FILM FESTIVAL

The Department of Computing Services will be presenting a festival of graphics films on Friday, December 7 in room V112 of the Physics Building, starting at 12 noon. The films will be valuable for those interested in computer graphics and computer art and design. They should also be useful for architects, engineers, and anyone in advertising.

One purpose of the festival will be to arrange future dates for seminars and discussion groups. These will enable Computer Services to provide more information about the graphics equipment and consultation facilities which are available on campus. Following the films there will be a demonstration on a Tektronix 4010 Terminal in the Biological Sciences Centre, room 702.

Further information may be obtained from Y. N. ZIA, 347 General Services Building, telephone 432-1462; or P. BUTTULS, 331 General Services Building, 432-5313.

ENVIRONMENT CANADA'S LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

A further communication has been received from Environment Canada concerning their co-operative national referral centre for interpretive materials on renewable resources and environmental quality. (See FOLIO, vol. 10, number 15, October 11, 1973.)

Apparently, although bibliographic listings are being received and the enthusiasm of the contributors is encouraging, a number of queries has arisen. "What does 'interpretive' mean?" "Does 'print material' include periodicals?" and "What is meant by 'comments' or 'background information'?" are some of the questions being received.

A list of questions, with answers, is available from the Publications Office, telephone 432-4991.

WORKSHOP ON MENTAL RETARDATION

The Alberta Mental Retardation Workshop, sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation, is being held November 24 and 25. The workshop will concentrate on techniques for normalizing and integrating
